LEGACY – Many shires established by the Anglo-Saxons are still used as boundaries today. Many towns and cities in Britain today were founded by the Vikings; places that end in the suffixes -by, -thorpe or -ay are most certainly Viking towns.

LOCATION – Anglo-Saxons came from Germany, Denmark and the Netherlands and settled in Angle-land or England. The Vikings came from Scandinavia (the countries Denmark, Norway and Sweden).

BELIEFS – Anglo-Saxons and Vikings were pagans, they believed in many gods who were in charge of different parts of life. Vikings believed that if they died bravely in battle they would be taken to Valhalla, a great feasting hall in the afterlife where they could eat and drink with the gods.

AGRICULTURE – Anglo-Saxons and Vikings were farmers and kept animals and grew crops. They were also craft workers who made objects from wood and metal.

FAMILY LIFE – Anglo-Saxons usually had their homes near forests so they had a good source of wood and water. Their houses were made from wood with thatched roofs and had only 1 room where everyone ate, cooked, slept and entertained their friends.

Viking families lived together in a longhouse, which were also made of wood and had a thatched roof. There would be a central fire in the room used for heating and cooking.

WARFARE – Both Anglo-Saxons and Vikings came to Britain to invade, then they settled here, hoping for a better life. They would use swords, shields, axes, spears, javelins and bow and arrows when fighting.

The Anglo-Saxons had different kings who ruled their own kingdoms. By 878AD there was only 1 kingdom left, Wessex, which was ruled by Alfred the Great. The other Kingdoms had been overrun by the Vikings. After years of fighting, Alfred the Great and the Vikings made a peace agreement, however they did still fight.
